Nixola Greeley-Smith, Miss Mabel Cratty and other diagnosticians told what in their opinions, makes the patient a menace to the moral welfare of young men and young women. As was to be expected, the doctors didn't agree, though most of them did call the brightness of Broadway an unhealthy glow and the centre of trouble.

Schiff Blames the Women.

John Wanamaker thought New York offered many temptations to young men to waste their time. Jacob H. Schiff was terse. He put New York's greatest was terse. He put New York's greatest temptation to young men in two words, "young women." Theodore Mitchell of the motion picture industry narrowed this diagnosis to the vampires of Broadway. But the president of Columbia University found the most supporters for his analysis of the case, which was that trying to live beyond one's means is the greatest temptation the metropolis dangles before both sexes.

"Wasting one's time," said Mr. Wanamaker, "is at the bottom of more sin and temptation than any other one cause. The Heavenly Father has given every one of us exactly the same amount

The next thing was the boring of a hole in the iron to allow the honey to catch it. That quickly filled up and another pail was procured. This vessel also filled up and some kitchen pans and kettles were used. There was no diminution in the flow and a wash boller was next used to catch the honey. This also was filled. Before the honey had all run out a dozen vessels, large and small, were sitting around the room, all filled with delicious honey.
